S. Viet Polls Open, Terrorism Continues

Ground Action Slack

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas rained 19 mortar rounds plus small arms fire into a U.S. airstrip 100 miles northeast of Saigon early Sunday, but a U.S. spokesman said there were no American casualties and damage was light.

The harassing attack came amidst slack ground action and with attention focused on the election in the South Vietnamese capital.

Light Damage
The spokesman reported light damage to aircraft at the airstrip at Phan Thiet. He said a fuel dump was set afire but the blaze was controlled in 90 minutes.

Near the base camp of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in the central highlands at An Khe, the Viet Cong probed with small arms and the cavalrymen replied with artillery fire and a search unit. There was no indication of any U.S. casualties.

A Vietnamese military spokesman said 16 Viet Cong were killed and seven captured in a brief clash Sunday about 30 miles south of Saigon.

For a fourth straight day, U.S. Air Force pounded a suspected surface-to-air missile site in North Viet Nam Saturday, the U.S. military command reported Sunday.

See Large Fires

Twelve missions of Air Force jets raided the area 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. Returning pilots said they saw two large secondary fires and they reported destruction of one truck and damage to six other vehicles.

A U.S. spokesman reported Saturday that 3 U.S. jets exchanged fire with three Communist MIGs, shot up three trains on the Hanoi-Peking Railway and attacked five North Vietnamese patrol boats, sinking at least one.

Incidents that ranged to within 30 miles of Red China's border were highlights of 122 missions flown over North Viet Nam Friday. The forays cost the United States its 363rd plane in the North. Ground fire downed a U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief. The pilot is listed as missing.

Jet Crashes
Another plane, an F5 Freedom Fighter, plunged to earth from an undetermined cause after making a napalm attack on a Viet Cong position 60 miles southwest of Saigon and the pilot was killed. Observers said there was no ground fire at the time.

U.S. Marines, infantrymen and South Vietnamese troops, reporting on a half dozen clashes Friday, killed 76 Communist soldiers listed. The Allied losses were termed light.

The biggest engagement was 2 1/2 miles south of the frontier demilitarized zone, where Marine said they and supporting warplanes accounted for 23 Viet Cong.

Mingled in scattered military operations was election terrorism by Communist agents which kept security forces on the alert. A U.S. spokesman said intelligence officers uncovered a Viet Cong plan to attack an American military billet and a Saigon radio station. Guards (Turn To Page Eleven)

Republicans Rap LBJ, Then Help Overfill Federal Money Pot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans who are assailing President Johnson's spending record are helping in many instances to overfill the presidential money pot for government programs.

Johnson complained last Thursday when he signed the $6.99-billion Agriculture Department money bill that Congress had voted $312.5 million more than he had requested.

Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., called this figure inaccurate but the White House didn't back down.

Asserting this boost is unwise "during a period when we are making every effort to moderate inflationary pressures," Johnson said he would use his authority to cut back to budget level the programs covered by the bill.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a leading GOP economy advocate, said in an interview he will believe this when he sees it happen.

Facts About Viet Election

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Salient facts concerning South Viet Nam's constituent Assembly election Sunday:

Security problem: Experts say 54 per cent of the nation's 15 million people are in government-controlled areas, 20 per cent in Viet Cong areas and 26 per cent in contested areas.

Eligible voters: 5,288,512. All men and women who reached the age of 18 on or before Dec. 1, 1965.

Candidates: 530.

At stake: 108 Assembly seats.

Polling places: 5,238.

Political parties: Practically none. The Communists were excluded. The minority Unified Buddhist Church is boycotting the election.

Issues: In effect the election is a popularity contest, between the government and the Viet Cong, that will be decided by the number of voters who actually go to the polls in defiance of a Red terror campaign. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky predicted 60 per cent would vote and said that would be considered a success by the government.

"President Johnson talks more about reducing spending and does less about it than any man I know," Williams said.

But Williams was among 77 senators who voted on July 15 for even larger farm expenditures of $7.06 billion. Only Sens. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., and Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., voted "no." The total subsequently was cut back to $6.99 billion in a compromise with the House.

Senate Republicans previously had voted 16-10 against a proposal by Brewster to limit price support payments to any one producer to $50,000 a year.

As it cleared the Senate, the bill added funds for politically popular programs Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Johnson had cut back for budgetary purposes with full knowledge that Congress would restore the lopped-off funds.

Restore Cut

The Senate's bill restored the $82 million cut from the school milk program and added another $2 million. It boosted a presidential request for $183 million for the school lunch program to $214.5 million. It upped his $204-million budget for agricultural research to $238.3 million.

The Senate wiped out $1230 million in Johnson reductions for agriculture conservation, REA electrification and telephone loans.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee summed up the action with the statement: "The administration had suffered a stinging rebuke for its ill-advised attempts to cut back on proven agricultural programs."

It said nothing, however, about the Republicans' support for increased spending at a time they were demanding reductions in outlays.

Explosions Echo In Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Businesslike lines of South Vietnamese cast ballots Sunday in nationwide elections that the government hoped would shatter Communist guerrilla leaders and anti-government Buddhists.

The Communist campaign of harassment continued even as the polls opened. Eleven grenade attacks were reported in Saigon overnight and a Viet Cong company seized temporary control of a village on the city's outskirts in broad daylight election morning.

The final two-day spurge of attacks in and around the capital killed six and wounded 29. These included three American servicemen wounded in their billets by grenade fragments.

Sound trucks blared through Saigon as the voting began and the government continued efforts to insure a big turnout.

The weather was fair. Initial reports indicated brisk early morning voting, although there was no indication what the final percentage might be.

Oklahoma Beauty New Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Jane Anne Jayroe, a 19-year-old brunette from Oklahoma, was named Miss America of 1967 Saturday night.

Jane, who wants to become a musical conductor but fears "her prejudice against women," won a talent preliminary in the pageant by conducting and singing a bouncy tune.

A junior at Oklahoma City University, the green-eyed beauty stands at 5-foot-6, weighs 116 pounds and measures 36-24-35. She has had special training in piano, singing, flute, saxophone, the organ and modern jazz dancing.

Jane, known to her family and friends as Jay-Jay, also is an avid basketball fan. She plays the sport too. Her father, E. G. Jayroe, coaches high school basketball in Laverne, Okla., where the family lives.

The new queen hopes to finish college and go on for a master's degree in music, majoring in conducting. She comes from a four-generation family of teachers ranging from her great-grandmother to an older sister.

The new queen walked to the front of the stage where she was hugged by outgoing queen Deborah Bryant of Kansas. Tears running from her eyes, Jane moved down the 120-foot runway, wearing her newly acquired crown.

Runnersup in the contest, in order, were: Miss California, Charlene Dallas, 19, Danville; Miss Tennessee, Vicki Lynn Hurd, 19, of Kingsport; Miss Ohio, Sharon Elaine Phillips, 21, of Delaware; Miss New Hampshire, Nancy Anne Naylor, 19, of Rye Beach.

The audience stood and applauded. Many fans shrieked and screamed their congratulations.

As she reached the end of the runway she regained her composure, smiled and nodded, holding both hands on her scepter.

Unlike previous years, the finalists were asked one instead of two questions each.

Miss Oklahoma was asked if because of her sex she expected to encounter prejudice in her desire to become a musical conductor.

She replied: "I know I will run into this prejudice. But I'm studying not only to conduct and learn to become a conductor, but to learn more about boys and piano and music generally."

In her final talent presentation, Miss Oklahoma clad in (Turn To Page Eleven)

Satellite Mapping Will Help Guard Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When America's high-flying Gemini 11 astronauts bolt to an altitude record of 863 miles, they can thank a bunch of orbiting robots for guarding their lives.

The robots, unmanned scientific satellites, have been piercing the Van Allen radiation belt around earth since America's first satellite, Explorer 1, sailed into orbit Jan. 31, 1958.

At the specific spot where astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. plan to aim for their altitude record, the spacemen will be taking "no more radiation chance than going in and getting an X-ray somewhere," said Peter Higgins, radiation specialist at NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center.

Less Radiation
Although orbiting at a higher altitude, the Gemini 11 crew will get less radiation than a three-day mission at a 185-mile-high circular orbit, said Charles W. Mathews, Gemini project director at the center.

The reason is the location of the globe-girdling radiation belts.

While the 26-foot Agena target satellite is linked up with Gemini 11, Conrad and Gordon plan to trigger the Agena's main engine over the Canary Islands, west of Africa.

They will reach the 863-mile peak over Australia, where unmanned scientific satellites show a pocket in the Van Allen radiation belts.

Explorers 1, 3, 4, 7 and 12 and Pioneer satellites 1 and 3 have told scientists the Van Allen belt generally extends from 400 to 40,000 miles above earth's surface, with two distinct regions of high energy particles at an altitude of about 3,000 miles and 10,000 miles.

Bad Spot
The globe-girdling belt dips as close as 100 miles to earth over most of the South Atlantic Ocean, suggesting that any astronaut aiming for an altitude record might be wise to shoot somewhere else.

The radiation belt — consisting of proton and electron particles trapped in earth's magnetic field — fluctuates like a lumpy blanket because the magnetic field is not perfectly centered around earth.

When American astronauts rocket to the moon, they will have to pierce high energy portions of the belt. But project scientists say the spacemen will pass through with such speed — and with proper shielding — they won't be harmed.

During the three-man Apollo flights before the moon trip, astronauts will attain altitudes between 5,000 and 10,000 miles while orbiting the earth, said Christopher C. Kraft Jr., assistant director for flight operations at the spaceflight center.

250,000 Attend Verwoerd Rites In South Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Nonwhites joined whites Saturday as South Africa buried assassinated prime minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd in a graveyard for national leaders outside this administrative capital.

A quarter of a million persons lined the funeral route to bid farewell to the man who developed a policy of separate development for the races.

At a funeral service in a massive government amphitheater, a Dutch Reformed church minister hailed Verwoerd as a beloved leader whose policies will be continued by his successors.

The nation, which came to a standstill for the funeral, heard the final strains of the bugle at Verwoerd's grave in Hero's Acre and the announcer on the national radio said: "The journey has ended. The laborer has gone to his rest. But a new beginning is at hand."

Members of Verwoerd's Nationalist party will meet Tuesday to name a new prime minister. The government newspaper Die Transvaler said the choice had narrowed to Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster, a member of the extreme right wing of the party and a resolute defender of the apartheid — racial segregation — policy, and Transport Minister Ben Schoeman, a former railroad locomotive fireman who is identified with moderate elements of the party.

Previously mentioned as a possibility was Finance Minister Theophilus Danges, who automatically took over as acting prime minister Tuesday after Verwoerd was stabbed to death in Parliament in Cape Town by an assassin identified by police as Dimitri Tsfendas, a white man.

At the funeral service, a special section was set up next to Verwoerd's family and Cabinet members for a group representing all of South Africa's tribes. Other nonwhites were seen sprinkled through the congregation and along the streets.

The Rev. J. S. Gerrie, moderator of the Dutch Reformed church and a personal friend of Verwoerd, conducted the service.

Seated in the front row of the congregation was Ian Smith, prime minister of neighboring Rhodesia. His diplomatic mission in Pretoria said he was present as a personal friend and not as the leader of his country.

Gemini 11 Suffers 2nd Postponement

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Gemini 11's two eager pilots suffered a second frustrating delay Saturday, this time until Monday, in their attempt to soar skyward for a challenging satellite hunt and space walk journey.

With familiar suddenness, trouble struck at the last minute—in the automatic pilot system of the mission's Atlas-Agena target rocket. Officials decided to replace one section containing a signal amplifier.

Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. were waiting at the door of their spaceship on a nearby launch pad when it happened. They shrugged off disappointment.

Wait Some More
"We've waited six months for this flight and we're perfectly willing to wait until Monday," said Conrad.

After the two took the slow elevator ride back to earth at the foot of the Titan 2 booster, Gordon exclaimed: "Well, we got a little farther today."

He was talking about Gemini 11's first disappointment, a one-day postponement Friday caused by a tiny leak in the fuel system of their Titan. That time, the scrub came as the astronauts slept.

Once Conrad and Gordon doffed their spacesuits after the latest setback, they huddled with officials to discuss all that had happened, and will happen, then got the rest of the day to relax. They planned to practice in a mockup Gemini spacecraft Sunday.

Minute Later
The new launch time on Monday is only one minute later than originally planned Saturday — because the sun will rise one minute later. The Atlas will be ignited at 7:49 a.m., flinging the Agena into a 185-mile high orbit for Gemini 11 to chase after liftoff at 9:26 a.m.

The stone- and bottle-throwing outbreak apparently was a secondary reaction to the march, however.

A bottle was thrown through the rear window of a car, injuring two girls. Three persons were burned by a thrown bottle of acid and one youth was clubbed by policeman.

The acid bottle was thrown at marchers, also a stone and an egg.

During March
George Lincoln Rockwell, national Nazi leader, was arrested two blocks from the starting point of the march. Police said they served warrants on him stemming from an illegal speech and illegal fund soliciting three weeks ago.

Also seized was Ralph Perry Forbes, 26, of El Monte, Calif., who attempted to interfere with Rockwell's arrest. Forbes said he was a pastor, but later described himself as the western division commander of the Nazi party and a "self-employed cleric."

Two Negro boys were seized by police for questioning in connection with the acid-throwing. A husky young Negro man charged into the field of demonstrators with his fists swinging, and was subdued by a policeman who struck him on the head with a billy club. With blood on the side of his face, the man was taken away in a van.

At junctures in the two-abreast procession along side walks over a mile-square, Southwest Side route, there were shouts — some angry, some apparently not.

Few Spectators
The march attracted relatively few watchers, and at some points there were virtually no onlookers. During the one-mile leg which followed 63rd Street from Western Avenue to Loomis Street through a Negro neighborhood, about 1,000 Negroes watched the marchers, mostly in groups gathered at street corners.

A group of 15 Negro men, equipped with walkie-talkie radios and wearing red and black "Deacon" hats, helped some 400 police keep order as the march passed through the Negro neighborhood.

For a block or two, a group of a dozen Negro civil rights demonstrators kept pace with the Nazis on the sidewalk carrying signs and singing, "We Shall Overcome!"

Many of the watchers along the march route appeared placid. One Negro woman holding a baby in her arms, greeted the marchers with a clear, far-carrying salutation, "White brothers! White brothers!"

Mostly, onlookers were quiet. A Chicago Fire Department helicopter buzzed overhead, keeping a watch on rooftops.

Young Men
The procession was made up mainly of young men. There were a half dozen young women, including one carrying a baby.

Printed placards carried by the marchers said, "Stop Black Riots." One homemade cardboard sign carried by a teenager, read, "Welcome Rockwell, Savior of the White People."

The march finished at 55th and Western, its starting point, and police urged the dispersing marchers to move away, and told them there would be no rallying permitted in the vicinity.

(Turn To Page Eleven)

The complexity of the mission's primary objective — that of catching the Agena within 90 minutes in the world's quickest rendezvous — played a big factor in the decision to scrub.

Technicians thought for a while they could repair the automatic pilot quick enough to go ahead with launch after only a few hours of delay. But the sequence of events would follow too late in the day, officials decided.

Gordon and Conrad hope to perform most of the tricky catch-up maneuvers in darkness, then be dashing into daylight as they ease to the Agena. If they arrive too late, the sun might glare directly on them and the Agena, making it difficult to keep up with the fleeing, 26-foot target.

There was also a question of just how serious the problem in the Atlas was. "The Agena may have flown all right, or may have not," said Charles W. Mathews, Gemini project manager, "we normally don't fly until we know what's going on."

Seek Perfection
The astronauts want to perform the speedy space chase to perfection, because the Agena figures in many other maneuvers they hope to perform during the three days of the flight.

Later, Gordon plans a 107-minute walk in space when he will jet about with a space gun, use a special space tool to qualify him as a "space mechanic," and the Gemini 11 to the Agena. By looping a cord from the Agena to the nose of the spacecraft.

Arrest Nazi Leader Of Chicago Marchers

CHICAGO (AP) — Six persons were injured and George Lincoln Rockwell was arrested Saturday as 125 American Nazi party members and sympathizers were greeted with isolated incidents on a march through a Negro neighborhood.

Negroes threw rocks and bottles at passing white motorists a block from the march after the procession passed.

The stone- and bottle-throwing outbreak apparently was a secondary reaction to the march, however.

Johnson Inks Bill To Aid Home Building Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law Saturday a bill designed to funnel up to $4.76 billion more into the mortgage markets and help the sagging home building industry.

At a White House Cabinet room ceremony, he also urged quick action by Congress on the anti-inflation program he unveiled Thursday.

Suspension for 16 months of the 7 per cent investment credit given to industry for outlays on new plant and equipment, and of the rapid write-off for federal tax purposes of depreciation on new commercial and industrial buildings.

Business Critical
Businessmen generally have been critical of the recommendations, and a U.S. Chamber of Commerce spokesman assailed them anew Saturday.

Joel Barlow, chairman of the chamber's taxation committee, said in a statement: "The President's proposal to suspend the 7 per cent investment credit will have no significant effect on the inflation we all wish to halt, but will serve principally to make our depreciation tax structure more inadequate than it already is."

This structure is presently, about the most inadequate and restrictive depreciation tax system in any industrial nation.

"The double tragedy is that it is not likely to be an effective anti-inflationary device beyond its short-term psychological effect. But the long-term psychological effect on U.S. industry—which can no longer rely on the government's assurance in long-term planning for modernization and replacement—may well be disastrous."

Heavy Demands
Johnson said demands for all types of credit have soaked up a large portion of the funds usually available for mortgages and that this "has raised the cost of money beyond all reasonable bounds."

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler declined to discuss Johnson's request for suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit at a news conference Saturday.

He has opposed such action in the past on the ground that it is a breach of faith with industry and a delayed action device whose effect may not be felt for about a year—by which time its dampening effect may be harmful instead of helpful.

The secretary will testify on this proposal before the House Ways and Means Committee on Monday.

Fowler called the news conference to announce a virtual freeze on new borrowings by federal agencies in the private securities markets from now until the end of the year. There also will be a postponement of projected multibillion dollar sales of government-held loans.

Johnson said that his tax recommendations, coupled with the bill he signed Saturday, should make more money available for mortgage credit.

"Opportunities"
"This will bring more opportunities for home ownership to thousands of American families," Johnson said. "It will stem the decline in housing starts. And it will reduce the pressure on the home building industry."

The money made available in the bill could be used by the Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA) to buy mortgages insured by the FHA or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. The theory is that the money will thus become available for new mortgage lending.

Pixley Hall, I.C. Campus

Dedicate Pixley Hall At IC September 26

The new five-story women's residence hall, which will be opened Sept. 18 on the Illinois college campus, will be named Pixley Hall in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. Boyd Pixley, by action of the college's board of trustees.

Dedication ceremonies will be held Monday, Sept. 26, at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Ruth Badger Pixley, who died Feb. 23 of this year, wrote the words for the "Illinois College Alma Mater Song," and her husband composed the music.

Mrs. Pixley, a daughter of the late William S. Badger of Jacksonville, attended Jacksonville High school and was graduated from Illinois college in 1918. She and her husband were married in 1922 and were owners of the Chicago restaurant chain now named Pixley and Ehlers.

She was elected to the Illinois college board of trustees in 1934 and served until 1964, when she was named a trustee emerita. She was chairman of the trustees committee on faculty from 1939 until her retirement.

Mr. Pixley lives in La Jolla, Calif. where they had resided since 1948. In addition to his business activities, Mr. Pixley is a classical composer.

"It is appropriate that this new dormitory for women should be named Pixley Hall. Ruth Badger Pixley was one of the most distinguished women graduates of Illinois college."

Both she and her husband have had a very deep interest in the activities of the college, and they have given it their strong support," President L. Vernon Caine said.

"The 'Illinois College Alma Mater Song,' both words and music, is entirely original with them, and it is one of their unique contributions to the college. It, along with this fine new dormitory, will be a permanent reminder for years to come of their many efforts on behalf of Illinois college," he added.

The new Pixley Hall is located on the corner of Mound avenue and Park street. It will cost more than $400,000 and will house 100 students plus a residence director.

Forty-eight double rooms, four singles, a snack kitchen, a director's apartment, a self-contained heating plant, a parlor with a fireplace, a public lounge, and a large recreation room on the lower floor are included in the new structure.

You Can Test Yourself For Dread Lung Disease

EDITOR'S NOTE — In the battle against emphysema, a dread lung disease, doctors are using such diverse equipment as treadmills and plastic table tennis balls. But thus far scientists don't even know the basic cause of the ailment now among the nation's top cripples. The following details recent treatments.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Light a match, hold it six inches in front of your mouth — and blow!

Make sure you blow with your mouth fully open. Don't purse your lips.

If you can't douse the flame, you may be a victim of a potentially lethal lung disease called emphysema — and you should consult your doctor promptly.

Even if you pass the match test, but have been suffering, even occasionally, for shortness of breath — and have been telling yourself: "Guess it's just because I'm not as young as I used to be!" — you'd better see your doctor anyway. It may save your life.

If your doctor is suspicious — and facilities are available in your community — you may be referred to a hospital or university medical center where there's special equipment to help diagnose this enigmatic malady.

But, says Dr. Albert Roberts, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service Chronic Respiratory Diseases Program:

"Nearly one-half of the nation's hospitals, and even some important medical centers, are not equipped to do an adequate job" in detecting emphysema and its satellite cohorts.

A key testing instrument is a respirometer used in such centers as Minneapolis' Mt. Sinai Hospital.

With a clamp attached to your nostrils, you breathe into a valved mouthpiece linked by tubes to a tank device. The tank contains a hollow cylinder, closed at the top, floating in water. Your exhaled breath causes the cylinder to rise — and a pen attached to it writes lines on a graph paper.

Once your lung capacity is gauged — that is, how much air you can breathe in and out, over and above air already abnormally trapped in there — attendants test you on:

How fast can you empty your lungs — especially, how much can you exhale in the first second?

Normal persons exhale at least 70 per cent in that first second; emphysema sufferers score much lower.

Another Test

A workout on a stationary bicycle is another test. The patient has a tube inserted in an arm artery so doctors can measure oxygen and noxious carbon dioxide in his blood upon exertion. Some hospitals use a treadmill.

At Triboro Hospital, Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., doctors related plans to use portable respirometers set up in mobile vans ticketed for a community survey of possible obstructive breathing difficulties among apparently healthy working men.

The Long Island study — to get under way this month — will be the first attempt to determine whether early, or potential, victims of emphysema can have it arrested, so as to prevent "the usually progressive and devastating effects of the disease."

Men showing suspicious signs will be asked to attend a special clinic at least monthly.

If the Long Island study works out, the Public Health Service — sponsoring the study — would attempt to have such preventive clinics established nationally. Moreover, in the future, you might be able to get a breathing test at a mobile station, just like chest X-rays are now available.

So, now you've found out you have emphysema.

The doctors will prescribe treatment including use of a breathing machine. Exercises to help drain any surplus mucus from bronchial tubes, and medications to help open clogged airways — the extent of treatment for average, established cases, plus use of portable oxygen tanks sometimes.

But rehabilitation, even of very severe cases, is possible.

The Public Health Service says two pioneering studies in pulmonary rehabilitation — at New York University's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; and Moss Rehabilitation Hospital and Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia — have suggested:

"Nearly 50 per cent of the severely disabled patients of chronic respiratory disease can be helped to the point of self-sufficiency, and in many cases to the point of returning to mostly sedentary work."

The breathing exercises are designed primarily to make patients accent belly breathing — that is, using the diaphragm, the abdominal muscle just beneath the lungs, to a greater extent than breathing by expanding the chest.

In one breathing exercise, the patient lies prone, breathes against the pressure of his hand on his belly. Later, he uses a sandbag, or other weights.

A variation, in the walking position, is to wrap a cloth around your belly, like a night club dancer, hold one end in each hand, allow the cloth to relax as you inhale and expand the abdomen, then squeeze it as you exhale.

Postural drainage exercises are designed as important adjuncts of medications you have for dilating mucus-clogged bronchial tubes, or for actually breaking up mucus in a detergent-like action nicknamed "wetting down the bronchial tree."

Incidentally, such medications can be applied by hand operated squirt guns directed at the open mouth, or by hand held nebulizers powered by a tire pump.

Postural drainage exercises enlist the aid of gravity in helping clear mucus from airways. But, since the bronchial tubes twist in all directions, the body must be moved in various ways including:

Sitting on a stool and moving the torso rhythmically from side to side, forward and back, lying prone on a level bed, and later on a tilted one, and moving the body through various positions.

The final exercise in every prescribed workout involves lying crosswise and face down on a bed, then lowering the torso toward the floor.

All but the last of these exercises should be accompanied by

Head Boyd Fund Program

Everett L. Mehl

Dr. A. K. Baldwin

CARROLLTON — The appointment of Everett L. Mehl to serve as general chairman for the Boyd Memorial Hospital expansion fund campaign has been announced by Dr. A. K. Baldwin, chairman of the Board of Trustees. Mehl is owner of the Mehl Funeral Home and has long been active in civic and community affairs.

Mehl has appointed Thomas S. Hough, president of the Carrollton Bank to serve as chairman of the major gifts division of the volunteer organization which will be the first group to begin solicitation. Hough in turn has secured Joe Davidson, Hugo Strickland and Francis Vaughn to serve as captains in Major Gifts. Each will have teams of five or more men working with them.

Plans call for forty-four-bed skilled nursing home addition to the present hospital, which will be paid for from the gifts of approximately $300,000 by the Reisch family and from a federal grant of approximately $100,000 made in conjunction with the gift.

The $300,000 being sought in public subscription during this campaign will be used to build new and enlarged surgical, emergency, and out patient service areas, including laboratory, x-ray, physical therapy, and intensive care for post-operative recovery.

Additional acute care beds will be added in the service areas, which will be replaced by the above mentioned additions.

Dr. A.K. Baldwin, chairman, in making the announcement indicated great satisfaction with the enthusiastic response of those who had been asked to work in leadership, and urged that all citizens of the community accept a fair share of the responsibility for the new build-

Discuss Recreational Area, Lake For Greene

CARROLLTON — The Greene County Board of Supervisors met Sept. 7 at the court house in Carrollton to discuss tentative plans for a lake and recreational area for residents of Greene county.

The present plans call for an area of approximately 1,000 acres or more to be located in a central area of the county for use by all residents of the county. A large lake is being planned with the thought that it might be used to furnish water for county residents in the event of a drought. Swimming would also be enjoyed at the lake and a picnic and camping area would be a feature of the recreational site.

K. B. Wright, a member of the board of supervisors and chairman of the recreational committee, presided at the meeting. No action was taken although possible plans were discussed by interested citizens including representatives of the Sportsman Club, and the Greene County Farm Bureau. Another meeting on the project is being planned for the near future.

Members of Wright's committee who are also members of the Greene county board of supervisors are Carl McAdams, William Flatt and Guy Kinser.

MAN WITH A MISSION

Leadership came early and quickly to Martin Luther King. The son and grandson of ministers, he was 26 and barely settled in his first pastorate in Montgomery when the boycott against segregated buses in the Alabama capital began in December, 1955. From then on he was a leader, a spokesman and banner-carrier symbolizing, as no other individual, the civil rights movement.

The often turbulent pursuit of a cause led both to jail and to honors. Behind bars on trespassing charges at St. Augustine, Fla., in 1964, Martin Luther King in the same year received the Nobel Peace Prize from Norway's King Olaf (extreme left of center picture, Mrs. King at right) and, from President Johnson at a White House ceremony, a pen used to sign the 1964 civil rights bill.

A high point in the civil rights movement: In the presence of President Kennedy and a host of government leaders, Martin Luther King spoke from the steps of the Lincoln Memorial to thousands of white and Negro supporters of racial equality in the 1963 March on Washington. His message of nonviolence was less persuasive two years later in riot-torn Watts. But neither heckling from Negro crowds in Los Angeles, increasing opposition from other Negro leaders nor violence from angered whites could deter him from the pursuit of his mission.

It began in Montgomery, Ala. Participation in the 1955 Negro boycott to enforce bus integration propelled the young minister into the national limelight. Martin Luther King overnight became a leader among Negroes and a figure to be reckoned with by the white establishment throughout the country. After Montgomery came the milestone marches ... Selma ... Washington ... Memphis to Jackson ... Chicago.

King's activities quickly attracted wide support among white civil rights sympathizers—priests, ministers, rabbis, public figures and private citizens. Above, he visited the smoldering ruins of a burned Negro church at Leesburg, Ga., with Rabbi Israel Dressner of Springfield, N.J.

Program chairman Dorothy Busche introduced Alvah Lee McCarthy who presented the program. Illustrating her talk with colorful and interesting slides she told of attending a Regional ADK meeting at the Drake Hotel in Oakbrook, Ill.

The remainder of the program was highlights of two other conventions she had attended in San Diego, California and in Atlanta, Georgia. Hostesses for the evening were Frances Moy, Dorothy Busche and Charlene Strubbe.

The next meeting will be Oct. 5th at Hamilton's with Margaret Fitzpatrick, Naomi Carnes and Hazel Blake hostesses.

Jean and Charles Bowen will present the program. Members unable to attend are asked to cancel reservations directly with the restaurant.

Explosions

A 20-year slide into war, economic and social distress. The election is, in effect, a popularity contest between Ky's administration and the Communist Viet Cong.

The boycott by a minority of vocal and militant Buddhists, who dramatized their own opposition by fasts and attempted demonstrations before the U.S. Embassy, further clouded the outlook.

Extreme Peril

Seldom has an election taken place under conditions so perilous. Although about 500,000 troops, police and militiamen guarded 5,238 polling places up and down the land, many were at danger points within areas under Viet Cong control. There was hardly a one out of range of possible mortar attack.

Air operations dominated war news of the day. Spokesmen announced U.S. jets had an inconclusive fight with three Communist MIGs 85 miles northeast of Hanoi Friday, shot up three trains on the Hanoi-Peking railway, and sank at least one of five North Vietnamese patrol boats spotted by Navy pilots. Two planes were lost, one in the North and one in the South.

Enemy and allied units met in a half-dozen isolated clashes in South Viet Nam. American and South Vietnamese troops said they killed 76. Their own losses were called light.

The vote Sunday is to fill 108 of the 117 seats in the Assembly. Councils of the Montagnard tribes in keeping with tradition of those mountaineers, will name nine men.

The Assembly will be charged with turning out a new constitution by next March, that is six months after it convenes. This is to be followed later in 1967 by the election of a legislative assembly to restore civilian rule.

Ky Critics

Many among the 530 candidates are critical of Ky, the air force commander, and other military officers who have run this country for 14 months. They are neither Communists nor Buddhists radicals, but disappointed and disillusioned men who see little difference between the premier's promises and those of his predecessors.

If 60 per cent of the 5,238,512 eligible voters turn out, the regime and those who support it, including the United States, will consider it a resounding rebuff to the Viet Cong. Anything less than 60 per cent may well lead to more instability.

The prestige of President Johnson was partly on the line — though only a handful of the generally illiterate voters were aware of it.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey set the Johnson administration's target by predicting 75 per cent of the voters would cast ballots. Although more cautious voices in the State Department and in Saigon said later they would be satisfied with 50 per cent, the Humphrey prediction could not be erased.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed no change of heart in its first few sessions after the Labor Day weekend, traditionally considered a milestone and turning point for business and stocks.

The market continued to go down, following its technical rally the previous week.

The performance of stocks was extremely cautious throughout the four-session trading week, shortened by the Labor Day observance on Monday.

The downward process speeded up early on Thursday when at one phase of trading the Dow industrials showed a 10-point loss.

At that juncture the market was lower than the closing low of Aug. 29, which some analysts thought might be the bottom of the 1966 decline. Then word spread that President Johnson was planning a news conference and prices came back most of the way, closing the day with only a small loss.

After the market closed President Johnson outlined his anti-inflation proposals, including a 16-month suspension of the 7 per cent tax credit on business investment.

Brokerage house sources were inclined to take encouragement, to see the administration's position as an effort to clear up the tight money-high interest rate problems which have depressed the stock market.

The Friday stock market finally wound up with a small gain on balance, but not much significance was attached to it. This was the first market rise in five sessions. The immediate future of the stock market still seemed cloudy as the week ended.

The Dow Jones industrial average last week declined 12.14 to 775.55.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week fell 2.9 to 280.9.

Volume for the four-day trading week was 21,840,450 shares compared with 43,127,710 for the full five-day week previous.

Of 1,541 issues traded last week on the New York Stock Exchange, 988 fell and 413 rose.

The bond market rallied smartly with governments posting substantial gains after President Johnson announced his anti-inflationary measures.

Government securities were up nearly one point. So tight were federal funds, they traded as high as 6.25 per cent, the highest on record.

GRAIN FUTURES POST GAINS IN FINAL ACTION

CHICAGO (AP)—The most active trading last week hit the grain futures market in the final minutes of the week and it was enough to add substantial gains to all commodities for the period.

Trade had been somewhat unsettled at times early in the week as speculators evaluated a private crop report which some were inclined to view as unrealistically high, particularly in the estimate for soybean yield. It estimated that crop at 905.7 million bushels. Otherwise the report created little stir in the pits.

Traders then turned their attention to short term speculative turns, buying on moderate setbacks and cashing out on bulges.

One bearish influence in the wheat trade about midweek was a report that Russia is harvesting its largest crop in several years and probably will not be as dependent upon other exporters for supplies as in other recent years.

At the end of the week, wheat was 2 to 4 1/2 cents a bushel higher, September $1.92; corn 1/4 - 1/2 higher, September $1.44 1/4; oats 1/4 - 1/2 higher, September 74 1/2 cents; rye 2 1/2 - 5 1/2 higher, September $1.30 1/2; soybeans 1-1 1/2 higher, September $3.38 1/4 - 39.

BAR ASSOCIATION VOTES AGAINST AMENDMENT

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois State Bar Association has voted 404-239 against the proposed amendment to the Revenue Article of the state constitution, it was announced Saturday.

Arrest Nazi Thugs Break In Service Station At Mt. Sterling

Rockwell was smoking a corn-cob pipe, and wearing sunglasses and a green business suit when he was arrested.

Warrants were served on him, charging him with making a speech in a public park and soliciting funds in a public place without permits. The charges stemmed from a rally in Marquette Park on Aug. 21 at which Rockwell spoke.

Most of the marchers wore sweat shirts emblazoned at the front with a large swastika and the words above that, "White Power." A man at the head of the parade carried an American flag.

About 200 policemen escorted the marchers along their 30-block route.

There were a few choruses of yells from groups of Negroes who gathered to watch the march, and shouts of "Nazi go home!" were distinguishable.

Two marchers near the rear of the column wore storm trooper uniforms which drew jeers from watchers.

In the absence of the party leader, the march was led by John Patter, 28, of Arlington, Va., a party official, and Christopher Vidnjovich, head of the Nazi Chicago group.

Before the march, Rockwell said that it was a countermeasure in answer to the civil rights marches which were made by largely Negro groups in all-white neighborhoods last month.

A petition by the Jewish War Veterans organization, asking the U.S. District Court to ban the march by Rockwell's followers, was in effect, denied Friday by Judge Joseph Sam Perry.

Perry postponed until an unspecified date a hearing on a petition for a permanent injunction.

The wedding ceremony took less than 10 minutes and was performed by the Rev. David Howe of the Church of Religious Science, of which Rooney is a member.

Rooney's previous wives were Ava Gardner, Betty Jane Rase, Martha Vickers, Elaine Mahonen and the late Barbara Thomson, who police said, was slain in January by a rival for her affections, Miles Miloevich, 25, who then took his own life.

Rooney and his son leave Sept. 25 for a tour of Australia. His new bride will stay home — then join him in Australia later.

ship, he will set the stage for a twirling ride around the globe, to investigate such a maneuver as a way of saving fuel while flying formation with a satellite.

On their third day aloft, Gemini 11 will use the 16,000-pound thrust engine of the Agena to flash to a record altitude of 863 miles where Gordon and Conrad will spend two orbits taking scientific pictures.

Once returning to a lower altitude, Gordon will stand in his seat, all but his legs outside, for 140 minutes, taking more pictures.

Splashdown now will be Thursday morning in the Atlantic Ocean off the Florida coast. First hint of the latest trouble came during a checkout of the Atlas 23 minutes before it would have been fired to life. It was detected when signals sent to two of three rocket engines did not draw proper response.

Engines Swivel

The Atlas engines swivel on the ride upward, guiding the machine in the right direction. Instead of swinging in the directions commanded during the test, two of the engines twirled aimlessly.

Col. Otto C. Leford, commander of the Air Force's 655th Aerospace Test Wing, said after initial investigation the problem apparently was in an amplifier that strengthens the electronic command signals. "We fed a straight line signal to the engines in the test," Leford said. "We received in return a jagged line."

He said the canister containing the amplifier would be replaced. While they're at it, engineers planned to give the entire automatic pilot system a good inspection.

A short erupted in a similar unit aboard an Atlas powering Gemini 9's Agena into space last May, causing an engine to swing crazily, plunging the Agena into the sea.

Conrad and Gordon had just completed the slow slide to the 100-foot level and walked into the superclean "white room" encasing their spacecraft on top when the countdown stalled. So, they waited leisurely, deciding to forego the ordeal of squeezing into the cramped vehicle until knowing for sure they would be launched.

"As the hold went farther," Conrad said, "its match with the flight plan looked less desirable all the time. We are satisfied that the decision was the right one."

Back home near Houston, Tex., the wives of the two pilots waited to watch the dual launches on television when the postponement was announced.

Jane Conrad was quoted as saying, "We're keeping our fingers crossed for a Monday launch."

PREP ATHLETES SHOULD PREPARE

As another high school athletic season gets underway the above average athlete with aspirations of attending college would do well to take a long look at what counts as far as athletic scholarships or aids are concerned.

The college athletic programs today are not exactly like those of past decades, when jokes of the day told of athletes who couldn't sign their names and who had to have left and right pointed on their shoes. The academic and athletic programs are changing, and the athletes are changing with them.

Most creditable colleges and universities are now required to demand the more academically inclined athlete than they perhaps did in recent years. However, there are still a few, some not too many miles removed from this area, who care only how high one can jump or how fast one can run. These are getting scarcer all the time.

The high school athlete who has hopes of getting some monetary aid on his athletic ability should prepare for this before he becomes a star on the varsity and makes an athletic name for himself. Unless he does, the vast majority of schools will not take a second look.

Although most sports followers are well aware of this situation, this writer was again reminded of it only last week while talking with what is usually referred to as a "bird dog," an unofficial recruiter for a college or university. Most schools who push athletics at all have these people, usually graduates of their school, scattered all over the country. Most of them remain nameless, and athletes usually never know they are around.

This gentleman cited several examples of athletes from this area in the past two or three years in whom his particular school, as well as others, were interested until checking on them. He also cited cases in the reverse when his school and others took a chance on a boy who displayed academic ability and a personality a coach likes to work with.

These "bird dogs" usually handle the preliminary investigation, such as checking the character and the academic standing of prospective college athletes. A large percentage of outstanding high school athletes are never contacted after this preliminary look, mainly because they don't have what it takes.

Most schools demand a certain academic level, admittedly not too high in some. Practically all schools have some grade level they demand, and if they feel an athlete cannot stay academically eligible, they are not going to risk a scholarship on him.

The character of the athlete and his conduct on and off the floor or field is equally important. A college is much more likely to take a chance on a border-line athlete if he is a gentleman, and we can cite examples of this from this area in the past two or three years.

It stands to reason that the only way an athlete is ever to be considered for an athletic aid to be an outstanding athlete with the potential of making the grade in college. Without this ability, athletic scouts could really care less as far as they are concerned.

On the other hand, the border-line boy can draw attention a whole lot quicker by a show of sportsmanship or with outstanding grades. For the athlete who has to depend on an athletic scholarship to attend any college, it is well worth remembering.

It stands to reason that probably all high school athletes realize this situation, but it may be hard to remember when a youngster is on top and is the local hero. But, he may be just another name and number when he gets with college teams.

It is said that all education is aimed at making its pupils well-rounded individuals. This means mentally as well as physically. We strongly recommend that high school athletes prepare themselves academically as well as athletically.

Open Sept. 24

8 Lettermen Back For Clan Soccer

Eight returning lettermen, headed by All-American goal-tender Bob Gay, will be at the disposal of coach Fred Taube when his MacMurray Highlander soccer squad opens its 10-game 1966 campaign against DePauw University on September 24.

Gay, and returning defensive stalwarts fullback Ted Lippert and halfback John Wittlieb will again be the mainstay of the Clan unit which captured the NAIA District 20 championship, while rolling up a 5-4-1 season.

Complimenting the proven defensive trio are six other experienced dependables who, with the addition of one junior college all-American and at least four outstanding freshman candidates, could blend into one of MacMurray's strongest soccer units.

Inside Julius Maghuda, halfbacks Herb Silva and Haig Nghossian, and fullback Bob Powell are again tabbed for possible starting slots, while last year's reserve goalie and former junior college all-American Jim Bonollo can adequately fill the net tending assignment.

Other promising returnees include: wings, Ron Bradstreet, Wayne McCumber and Marc Mattox; insides, Jon Friedberg and Russ Milby; halfbacks, Bob Rosenthal and Jim May; and fullbacks Andy Onderonk and Bob Brueck.

The top prospects for a starting slot in Taube's alignment is junior college all-American choice Chris DeMeglio. DeMeglio, who gained his national honor while attending Trenton (N.J.) Junior College, is a speedster who can play both the center-forward and inside positions, and has aided Taube's hopes that this year's squad "could be the fastest one we've ever had."

These hopes are augmented by the demonstrated speed of at least four frosh candidates who have taken in early drills with the varsity Clansmen. The four include: inside Mike Grossman, fullbacks Ray Marriott and Joe Stothert; and wing Steve Townsley.

KC Rookie Nash Blanks Detroit For 11th Win 5-0

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mike Herschberger drove in two runs and Ed Charles drilled a homer, powering Kansas City rookie Jim Nash to his 11th victory Saturday night as the Athletics blanked Detroit 5-0.

Nash, who has lost only one game since coming up from the minors two months ago, checked the Tigers on six hits before giving way to reliever Jack Akers in the seventh. Akers allowed two hits the rest of the way in recording his 25th save of the season.

Herschberger started the A's on the way to their fifth victory in the last six games with a run-scoring double in the first inning and singled one of three runs across in the seventh.

Charles led off the fourth against loser Denny McLain, 18-12, with his ninth homer.

EDDY SCORES FIVE IN IRISH WARMUP

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Nick Eddy, Notre Dame's star halfback, scored five touchdowns Saturday in leading coach Ara Parseghian's Blue team to a 40-0 victory over the Whites in the first half of a two-part scrimmage.

In the second portion of the practice session, reserve fullback Paul May scored two touchdowns while quarterback Cole O'Brien added another. Eddy scored on runs of 48, 16 and six yards and grabbed two scoring passes from sophomore quarterback Terry Hanratty, good for 12 and 16 yards. Sophomore Jim Seymour chalked up a touchdown for the Blues on a 26-yard pass from Hanratty.

Following the game-like scrimmage, the coach said he was pleased with the team's performance on both offense and defense. Parseghian added that he was particularly happy with Hanratty's passing and his selection of plays.

Twins Keep Hopes Alive In 7-2 Edge

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—Harmon Killebrew, Jimmie Hall and Jerry Zimmerman sashed home runs Saturday, powering the Minnesota Twins to a 7-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The triumph was the Twins' 10th in the last 12 games and their second in a row over the American League-leading Orioles.

Killebrew's three-run blast off John Miller in the first inning, after Hall drew a walk and Tony Oliva singled, staked Jim Merritt to a 3-1 lead.

Hall singled home a Minnesota run in the second inning and cracked his 18th homer in the fifth.

Zimmerman's first home run of the year came in the sixth after Zoilo Versalles singled.

Merritt yielded a run in the first when he walked Frank Robinson and Brooks Robinson doubled him home.

Killebrew's homer was his 34th of the season and 331st of his career, tying him with Hank Greenberg for 31st place on the all-time homer list. Killebrew also singled and doubled.

Howard, Agee Carry White Sox Past Senators 1-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Bruce Howard pitched a two-hitter and Tommie Agee's third hit, a sixth-inning single, delivered the only run in the game as the Chicago White Sox nipped the Washington Senators 1-0 Saturday.

Howard gave up a second-inning single by Dick Nen, then set the Senators down until the eighth when Paul Casanova beat out an infield single.

The shutout was the 20th for the White Sox' staff this season, and their second in a row over Washington.

Ken Berry's wind-blown double, which fell between shortstop Ed Brinkman and left fielder Hank Allen, set up the White Sox run in the sixth. Berry scored on Agee's single to center off loser Mike McCormick.

BILLIKEN STAR COLE HURT

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A St. Louis University basketball player was reported in good condition Saturday after he was hospitalized for a stab wound in his abdomen.

Bobby Cole, 22, told police he was stabbed Friday night with a pocketknife by a youth during a fight at the rear of a hot dog stand in St. Louis. Authorities said Cole would be hospitalized several days.

Cole had a 15.1 scoring average in the Missouri Valley Conference last season, when he was a junior. He scored 37 points against North Texas State, the second highest one-game total in Billiken history.

In strictly a two-horse race down the entire stretch, veteran Bill Shoemaker gave Diplomat Way a blistering ride to win by a head margin over the surprising Wilbur Clark, ridden by Earlie Fires and take the first money of $195,200.

Southall Tosses 4 TDs As Baylor Blasts Syracuse

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Terry Southall threw four touchdown passes and Kenny Stockdale tricked Syracuse out of another score Saturday as Baylor crushed the Orangemen 35-12 in a nationally televised football game.

It was Syracuse's worst defeat since losing to Illinois 34-6 in 1954. Syracuse was ranked No. 7 in the Associated Press pre-season poll. Baylor was unranked.

The Bears got two touchdowns in the first period on Southall's 30 and 23 yard shots to Richard Deefe and Paul Beeton.

In the third period, Stockdale faked holding the ball for a field goal try and passed 29 yards to Charlie Wilson for a touchdown.

The Bears got their fourth touchdown on Southall's 23-yard toss to Pinky Palmer and wound up with Southall's 10-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Green.

Floyd Little, the brilliant Syracuse running back, led a 53-yard drive to a touchdown in the second period, running over seven yards out. He spearheaded a 57-yard drive in the last minutes that wound up with him taking a three-yard pass from Jim Del Gazio.

John Westbrook became the first Negro to play varsity football in the Southwest Conference when he ran for 11 yards for Baylor on two carries in the fourth period.

Cline's Single Carries Braves To 5th Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—Ty Cline's run-scoring single in the fifth inning capped a two-run Atlanta rally that sent the Braves to a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets Saturday night.

Trailing 2-1 going into the fifth, the Braves scored the tying run on singles by Denis Menke and Woody Woodward and an infield out by pitcher Tony Cloninger. Felipe Alou was then hit by a pitch and Cline scored Woodward with his single off starter Jack Fisher.

The Mets scored in the first inning on two wild pitches and again in the third on Ken Boyer's run-scoring single.

The Braves have won five games in a row and 10 of their last 11. The Mets have lost seven of their last eight games.

Schofield Goes To Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers acquired shortstop Dick Schofield from the New York Yankees Saturday.

In return, the Yankees will receive a player to be named later.

Schofield, a 31-year-old switch-hitter, batted .155 as a utility infielder for the Yankees. He will join the Dodgers Sunday.

E. J. Buzzie Bavasi, Dodgers general manager, said Schofield was acquired as shortstop insurance during the final three weeks of the National League pennant race.

Mauri Wilks, the Dodger captain and regular shortstop, has been playing on two injured legs and John Kennedy, his back-up man, has been bothered by ankle injuries.

DIPLOMAT WAY WINS RICH CHICAGO RUN

CHICAGO (AP)—Diplomat Way shaded Wilbur Clark, 20-1 shot, to capture the $367,700 Arlington-Washington Futurity, one of the world's richest races for thoroughbreds, before 25,227 at Arlington Park Saturday.

In strictly a two-horse race down the entire stretch, veteran Bill Shoemaker gave Diplomat Way a blistering ride to win by a head margin over the surprising Wilbur Clark, ridden by Earlie Fires and take the first money of $195,200.

Local Grid Teams Prepare To Open

By BUFORD GREEN

The three local city high schools will enter their final week of practice Monday before unveiling their wares Friday night, two of them before local fans. Illinois College will have the entire week to prep for its opener next Monday afternoon.

All four local schools are basically in the same boat entering their first game. All lost some key personnel from last time around, they all had .500 records or better, and much of this season's success depends on some as yet untried material.

The three high schools open Friday with Jacksonville entering an always tough Deatur Eisenhower bunch under the lights at 7:30, ISD hosting Winchester at 3:00 and Routt traveling to Calhoun. IC will entertain Eureka at 4:00 Monday afternoon.

All four units have been minus any serious injuries to date, due in part probably to almost ideal weather since practice started. Only half-serious sprains and bruises have been reported, but all are expected to be ready for the first game.

Crimsons Get Test
Coach Bob Kraushaar's JHS Crimsons get what may be their strongest opponent all season right off the bat in a Capitol Conference tilt. The Eisenhower Panthers last year handled the Crimsons by a big score and have quite a few regulars back, along with a sophomore team that took the JHS soph team last year, 26-0.

Kraushaar reports the squad has been looking good in practice and he has been pleased to date. "It's always hard to tell just how good they do look because we don't know how good their opposition is yet."

Kraushaar reports that right now his tentative lineup would run Dave Marshall and either Tor Duwer, Chip Sutphen or Otis Pitts at the ends, Larry Cook and John Parrott at the tackles, Paul Pollack and Gerald Stewart at the guards, Greg Neff at center, Rich Cible and Abe Brown at halfbacks, Harry Gollier at fullback and Danny Brooks at quarterback. He adds that Jim Burner, Benny Richardson, almost recovered from a broken nose, and John Mathews, recovering from a broken toe, will all see considerable action, probably in the first game.

Defensive specialists to be inserted by Kraushaar include Dean Hill, John Long and Jim Jones. Chuck Stratman may see some action at defensive end.

Curtis Impressed
New Routt coach Fred Curtis remains impressed with the Rocket team he has inherited. "The boys have been looking real good, and they have picked up the new offense real well. Right now I would say they are living up to our expectations."

Curtis says he plans to start Dick Zeller and Dan Welch at the ends, Greg Yording and Charles Blesse at tackles, Jim Duncan and Ken McGinnis at guards, Mark Lahey at center, Dave Geers and Mike Sheehan at the halfbacks, Paul Lampert at fullback and sophomore Loyd Krumlauf at quarterback. Curtis was especially high on the work in practice by Sheehan and Krumlauf. Transfer Jim McCarthy will be used on defense, and Curtis will make other defensive changes by the first game. All but two are returning lettermen.

The first-game opponent will be a young and not-too-large Calhoun outfit, beaten by Routt in the first game last season.

No Size At ISD
Coach Jim Bonds has not been overly pleased by the work of his very light ISD squad. The Tigers have a nucleus of ten lettermen to build around, but only two boys on the squad are 180 pounds or bigger, and there is little breakaway speed on the team.

IC Faces Rebuilding
Illinois College boss Joe Brooks faces a major defensive rebuilding job, with only two defensive regulars returning from last year's 6-2 club. Four offensive linemen are back, along with three backfield regulars. Brooks cites an outstanding freshman class, along with some size he can insert, as basis for hopes in 1966.

Cubs Bomb Perry And Giants, 12-3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Glenn Beckert knocked in five runs Saturday as the Chicago Cubs drove 20-game winner Gaylord Perry from the mound and trounced the San Francisco Giants 12-3 behind a 17-hit assault.

The loss, 10th for the Giants in their last 16 games, kept them in third place in the National League, one game behind Los Angeles and 1½ behind first place Pittsburgh.

Left-hander Dick Ellsworth, a 20-game loser, checked the Giants on seven hits until the eighth inning, when he gave way to Cal Kousser. The victory gave him a 6-20 record, while Perry dipped to 20-6.

Beckert, stretching his hitting streak to 20 straight games, singled a run across in the second inning, doubled two home in the third and rapped a two-run single in the seventh.

The Cubs led 9-0 after three innings. Perry was tagged for 11 hits and eight runs in 2 1/3 frames.

Willie Mays and Willie McCovey, the Giants' two top hitters, left the game after the third, Manager Herman Franks apparently writing off the disaster and saving his sluggers for Sunday's doubleheader.

Three singles and an error by Ron Santo produced three Giant runs in the fourth.

The rout of the world's two leading amateur players stunned a sellout crowd of 13,500 at the West Side Tennis Club. Santana holder of the Wimbledon as well as the U.S. title, was seeded No. 1, Emerson No. 2.

Overlooked In Draw
The two finalists were completely overlooked in the draw. Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., advanced to the women's final with an easy 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Kerry Melville, the 18-year-old Australian who upset top-seeded Mrs. Billie Jean King in the second round.

Miss Richey's opponent in Sunday's title round will be Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeking to become the first 40-time winner of the women's title in 20 years. Miss Bueno ran into a mighty miss in 5-foot-2, 113-pound Rosemary Casals of San Francisco but finally beat down the plucky 17-year-old 6-2, 10-12, 6-3.

Newcombe overwhelmed Santana on sheer power. He served 18 aces in a blazing demonstration from the delivery line and tore down the Spaniard's finesse and touch with cannon-like shots both at the net and off the ground.

Stolle was almost perfection in returning service as he handed Emerson the worst trouncing of his career in a major match.

Regan Wins 13th, 1-0

Ferrara Moves LA Within Half Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pinch hitter Al Ferrara stroked a run-scoring single in the 10th inning, lifting the Los Angeles Dodgers past Houston 1-0 and moving them within one-half game of the National League lead.

Mauri Wilks led off the 10th with a single off Mike Cuellar, took second on Jim Gilliam's sacrifice and third on a ground out by Willie Davis. Ferrara, who batted for reliever Phil Regan, singled to left, snapping the scoreless deadlock.

Cuellar worked out of a ninth-inning jam after Dick Stuart singled with one out and pinch runner Wes Parker raced to third on Lou Johnson's single. John Roseboro grounded to second baseman Joe Morgan and Parker was caught in a run-down and tagged out. Ron Fairly then forced Roseboro at second for the third out.

The Astros had only three base runners in the first seven innings against Don Drysdale. The Dodgers collected four hits and five walks off Cuellar in the first five innings but were thwarted by two double plays and stranded seven runners.

The Bowling Scene

by Sandy Petersen

Several 600 series and numerous single game efforts well into the 200 range have highlighted early season league action at both local bowling establishments to date.

First, second and in some cases third-week play have already been run off, as much of the local sports interest has already shifted to the Bowling Center and the Bowl Inn.

George Manker, Wally Baptist and Bill Shouse currently hold down high individual league play marks by slim margins, but continued assaults launched throughout the year by the numerous local bowling enthusiasts can be expected to move these early scores-to-beat even higher.

Manker presently boasts the high single game honor, a 299; Baptist the high series 873 for four games (a 218 average); and Shouse tops all league averages with his 201 pace.

Beverly Barwick's 230 game stands as high in the women's circuits, while Marian Manker holds the women's high series high with a 559 scratch.

George Manker's pace-setting 269 game came during his 850 four-game series Friday night that carried the Bowling Center team to a season high 2210 series in Three-Man Scratch Classic play. Price, Wade and Dowland and Besco presently share the league lead with 8-4 records.

Baptist rolled his record effort during last week's play in the Tues. Night 3-Man Handicap, which saw defending champion Powell's Body Shop open up a game lead over the field.

Shouse leads both league and city keggers with his 201 clip for 12 games. Individual loop honors have thus far gone to Marvin Zulauf via a 256 game and an 832 series, with Powell's holding the team highs on 655 and 2303 scores.

A showdown is set in Monday night's Junior Commercial League play as Doyle-Shanley Inc. and Baptist Sound, both 3-0, meet head-to-head. Doyle-Shanley capped both team totals marks last week with 1094 and 2968 figures, while M. Bourne set the early season individual highs with a 252 game and his 588 three-game fairing.

Browning's moved to undisputed possession of first play in the Topper League Tuesday night after having held the honor with Peck's Excavating and Jenkinson Grocery. A 606 series by Gerald Lacey is high for the year, with Browning's C. Watts holding the high game at 235.

Matt Wagner and Robert Drake have taken turns dominating the Thursday Night Men's League action during the past two weeks, recording three-game totals over the 600 mark. Drake sparked Rutland's into the league lead a week ago on a 610 series which included a 246 game, but Wagner came back to take the high series honor with last week's 614 outing.

Birdsell Candies leads the circuit with a 7-2 record, followed by three units with 6-3 tallies. Rutland holds the high team game of the season with a 1094, while the Village Cycle Shop quintet's 3140 series stands as high in the other department.

Bowlerette League action Thursday saw four teams (Blackhawk, Bates Mkt., Adams T.V. and Spaulding's) move into a tie for the top slot with 6-3 records. League high averages Beverly Barwick (182) holds the high game mark with her 230, while Elizabeth Campbell's 149, 206 and 165 outing gave her the high series total — 620.

Wade & Dowland, sparked by Gordon Walker's 582 series, swept three from the Village Pump Thursday night to take a two game lead over Budweiser in the Elks League. Ralph Eoff copped individual honors with a 236 game on way to his 615 total in leading Henry Nelch and Sons to a 2-0 downing of Mac's Clothes Shop.

Budweiser moved into second by taking a pair from Walgreen's, maneuvered with the aid of Tony Gaudin's 593 set. Darrell Strubbe and Lloyd West hold the league individual highs with a 621 series and 244 game respectively.

A four-way tie for first resulted during first week action in the Senior Commercial League. Newman's, who rolled the high series for the night (3038), the Bowl Inn, Olsen's and Team No. 3 are deadlocked on top.

B. Alexander had the high game of the week with a 234, while A. Smith topped the loop with a 601 series.

A multi-team tie also resulted after the City League moved one week into the new season. T & C Sales, City Light and Power and American Legion hold down the top slot.

Chet Reum got off to a fast start in all two individual departments by rolling a 185, 218 and 204 — 607 series or a 203 average, while Tink Camerer notched high game honors with a 221. High team series went to George's Pizzeria with 2345, but T & C took the single game

HORNETS' NEST: Any football success Brown County has this campaign could well depend on this group, four of the five returning letterman first-year coach Bill Roper has back on the Hornet squad. L-r are Jim Henry, Dennis Mitchell, Fred Dunbar and Mike Burnett. The other returning letterman is Dave Miller.

MSU Team To Beat

Quarterbacks Green Throughout Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — This is the year of the green quarterback in Big Ten football, and with one of the league's seven rookie field generals, defending champion Michigan State is the team to beat.

Purdue's golden-armed Bob Griese is the only established quarterback. Northwestern's Denny Bothe and Indiana's Frank Stavoff shared signal-calling last fall.

Michigan State, a world beater last season until it showed up against UCLA in the Rose Bowl, entrusted fleet Jimmy Raye, a junior, to succeed Steve J. J. as engineer of the Spartan Express.

Mainly because of Griese, Purdue's Mr. Talent, the Boilermakers are bracketed in the top challenger class, along with Ohio State and Illinois, both unyielding sophomore quarterbacks, Bill Long and Bob Naponic respectively.

Michigan also may show well if Dick Vidmer can scamper on a leg broken two years ago and which left him a modest quarterback understudy to Wally Gahler last season.

Minnesota has lost John Hankinson, greatest passer in the school's history. Tabbed his successor is sophomore Ray Stephens, brother of former star Gopher quarterback, Sandy.

Bedraggled Wisconsin has installed at quarterback sophomore John Boyagian and shifted Chuck Burt, whose strong passing arm failed the 1965 Badgers, to flanker.

Iowa, which moved Jerry Burns out of his job as head coach, also has a sophomore, Ed Fodolak, as new coach Ray Nadel's probable quarterback to succeed graduated Gary Snook, ill-fated sharpshooter.

With a Michigan State nucleus of such returning offensive whizzes as quarterback Clint Jones, end Gene Washington, fullback Bob Apisa and halfback Dwight Lee, new quarterback Raye seemingly has a push-button assignment.

But defense was really the name of the Spartan game last season when four MSU opponents, including Ohio State and Notre Dame, were held to minus rushing yardage.

Coach Euffy Daugherty still has several super stars on defense, including linebacker George Webster and 270-pound

Elks Traveling League will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Bowl Inn.

Two teams from each of six central Illinois cities giving for honors in the monthly-held circuit are:

Cities represented in the monthly circuit are: Jacksonville, Beardstown, Springfield, Macomb, Peoria and Pekin.

Applications are still being taken for high school and grade school-aged bowlers interested in the Bowling Center's mixed league program. League play will be every Saturday, with the high schoolers shooting at 10 a.m., and the younger set at 1 p.m.

Both leagues, which are scheduled to get underway September 24, are sanctioned by the American Junior Bowling Congress. Those interested should contact George Manker at the Bowling Center.

Three-man handicap tournaments presently are being held at the B.C. every Saturday night at 10 p.m. The six game tournaments are run on an 80% handicap basis.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ed Spiezo's run-scoring single capped a four-run rally in the ninth inning that boosted the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-5 victory over the National League-leading Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

The ninth-inning outburst wiped out a 5-2 Pirate lead built on Bob Bailey's tie-breaking triple in the fourth inning and Bill Mazeroski's two-run homer in the eighth.

Phil Gagliano, batting for pitcher Bob Gibson, touched off the winning rally with a double off Pittsburgh reliever Pete Mikkelsen and continued to third on left fielder Willie Stargell's wild throw.

Lou Brock beat out a bunt, Gagliano holding third, then stole his 64th base, topping by one the club record he set last season. Curt Flood followed with a bloop single to right, scoring Gagliano and sending Brock to third.

After Flood stole second, Brock scored on Tim McCarver's ground out and Orlando Cepeda singled Flood across, tying the score. One out later, Spiezo lashed a single to right, pushing the Cardinals ahead.

Hal Woodeschick then came on and checked the Pirates in the ninth, preserving Gibson's 19th victory against 10 losses. Woodeschick retired the first two men he faced in the ninth but Alley beat out an infield hit and Roberto Clemente singled him to third. Pinch hitter Rodgers then bounced to the mound for the final out.

St. Louis 000 200 004-6 16 1 Pittsburgh 002 100 020-5 13 1 Gibson, Woodeschick (9) and McCarver; Law, Mikkelsen (8) and Pagliaroni; W-Gibson, 19-10. L-Mikkelsen 8-7.

Home run—Pittsburgh, Mazeroski (16).

Clay Scores TKO In 12th

5 Lettermen Are Back For Hornets

MT. STERLING — First-year coach Bill Roper inherited only five lettermen when he took over the Brown County Hornets this season, but three of those returning veterans are top backfield performers and should provide a good nucleus to build around.

Roper, a native of Washington, Ill., moved to Brown County this season after serving as assistant last year at Unity of Mendon.

Last season the Hornets ran up a respectable 5-2-1 record, and finished in a three-way tie for second in the Midwest Conference.

The three returning backfield regulars are 170 pound senior halfback Jim Henry; 155 pound senior quarterback Dennis Mitchell and 190 pound junior fullback Fred Dunbar.

The only returning line vets are 195 pound senior tackle Mike Burnett and 180 pound senior center Dave Miller.

A squad of 66 reported out two weeks ago, and Roper lists 25 of them on the varsity roster, ten seniors among them.

*Denotes Midwest Conference games

Clay, a 16-1 favorite, dropped the German three times and had him bleeding around both eyes and from the nose before British referee Teddy Waltham stopped the slaughter in the 12th round at Wald Stadium.

The unbeaten 24-year-old champion from Louisville, Ky., floored the aggressive European champion in the fifth, eighth and 10th rounds and battered him with both hands in most of the closing rounds.

A sharp right cross spilled Mildenberger just before the bell sounded to end the fifth round. In the eighth, a crisp left hook to the jaw dropped the 28-year-old challenger for the mandatory eight count. In the 10th, a right sent Mildenberger tumbling to the canvas just before the bell sounded.

The time for the technical knockout was 1:30. It was Clay's sixth title defense and his fourth within 5 1/2 months.

Clay said afterwards: "It was a tough fight. I hit him with a couple of good punches. I had a chance to take him out several times earlier."

Sleek and fast at 203 1/2 pounds to Mildenberger's 194 1/2, Clay scored consistently with straight rights to the head of the left-handed German.

Mildenberger's southpaw stance troubled Clay for a time, especially in the third and fourth rounds when Karl scored heavily with lefts to the head and body.

All Clay From 5th On But from the fifth round on it was all Clay.

The champion stabbed away with his darting left jabs and followed with flashing rights to the head.

Still the German kept coming. The crowd of about 40,000 cheered the efforts of the native son, even when his punches obviously were short.

Clay said afterwards: "It was a tough fight. I hit him with a couple of good punches. I had a chance to take him out several times earlier."

"He was hard to get to and he had a pretty good punch. He was sharp. He was a real gentleman, though."

It was the 21st knockout for Clay, whose record is 28-0.

Mildenberger had an unbeaten streak of 22 fights snapped. His record now is 40-3-3. It was the third time he has been stopped in a career of nearly eight years.

Later Clay said the Williams fight would be on Nov. 14. Saturday's fight was scored by rounds. Referee Waltham had Clay ahead 7-2 with two even. American judge Nat Fleischer and German judge Felix Ohlert both had Clay in front 7-3 with one even. The Associated Press had Clay leading 9-1 with one even.

One of the promoters said Clay would collect a purse of about $300,000 and Mildenberger about $100,000 of the total gross of approximately $750,000 from the gate receipts and television.

Nicklaus, Casper Lead Golf World Series By A Stroke

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper matched par Saturday to share a one-stroke lead over Al Geiberger and Litter Little in the closest start in the history of the World Series of Golf.

Nicklaus, the Masters and British champion, rallied with a pair of birdies on the last six holes to catch up to Casper, the U. S. Open champion, who is enjoying the finest year in his 12-year professional career.

Nicklaus shot a 36-34-70 against Casper's 35-35-70 while Geiberger and Litter rallied strongly over the back nine to climb within one stroke of the co-leaders.

Litter began with a four-over-par 39 but bagged three birdies on the back nine for a 32 and a 71 total.

Geiberger PGA champion, bogeyed three of his first four holes before settling down for a 37-34-71.

The only other time the opening round leaders were tied in the World Series was in 1963 when Bob Charles and Nicklaus both had 70s over the 7,180-yard Firestone layout.

Nicklaus went on to shoot another 70 in the final round to win his second World Series trophy.

Never, however, have all four players been so closely bunched after 18 holes in the run for the top prize of $50,000 in the nationally televised spectacular.

Second place is worth $15,000 with $7,500 going for third place and $5,000 for fourth place.

In case of a tie after Sunday's final round, a sudden death playoff will begin at the 14th hole, the first in range of the gigantic television cameras.

BOULMETIS TO RETIRE CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—It will have to be this fall or never if Sam Boulmetis, president of the national Jockeys Guild, hopes to win the Jordan State set for Nov. 12.

Boulmetis plans to make this year his last as a jockey. In seven rides in the Garden State he has never finished in the money.

Packers' Defense Humbles Colts 24-3

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The proud Green Bay Packers' defense humiliated the great Johnny Unitas and carried the Packers to a 24-3 victory over the Baltimore Colts Saturday night in a grudge match beginning the National Football League season.

Lee Roy Caffey and Bob Jeeter picked off two Unitas passes in less than two minutes and turned them into touchdowns as the Packers dynamited any doubts about their claim to the 1965 NFL crown.

The two sudden scores broke the backs of the Colts' resistance. The Packers, offense, which had slumbered through most of the first half, caught fire and dominated play the rest of the game.

The Colts' only score came in the second quarter when Lou Lardican capped a 47-yard Unitas-led drive with a field goal from 26 yards out.

AP Picks Alabama For Third In Row

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama, winner of the national college football championship in the Associated Press' poll for a record-tying two seasons, was picked Saturday to make it an unprecedented three straight this year.

Coach Paul Bryant's talent deep crew, which won the 1955 title by whipping all conquering Nebraska 39-28 in the Orange Bowl, was a narrow choice to top Michigan State for the No. 1 post this year according to the experts participating in the AP's annual pre-season poll.

Alabama was named first by 15 of the 35 voting members of a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters and received 296 points on a basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, eight for third and so on. Michigan State got 12 first placers and 267 points.

Nebraska was close third, 243, in the voting followed by: 4, U.C.L.A. 219; 5, Arkansas, 204; 6, Notre Dame, 184; 7, Syracuse, 114; 8, Purdue, 78; 9, Southern California, 67, and 10, Tennessee, 66.

Packers' quarterback Bart Starr combined with receivers Boyd Dowler and Paul Hornung to spark a 79-yard third period drive that ended with Starr bolting over for a touchdown from the eight.

Don Chandler, whose field goal had beaten Baltimore 13-10 in last December's dramatic playoff for the Western Conference crown, kicked another down from the 15 as the Packers took a 24-3 lead with only a quarter to play.

300 Persons Stage Protest In Waukegan

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Nearly 300 civil rights demonstrators staged a protest march at Waukegan's City Hall Saturday but there was no violence, heckling or arrests.

The rally was called by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People after Mayor Robert Sabonjian charged that the NAACP was in part responsible for three days of race rioting in the city in late August.

"The bulk of the demonstrators were Negroes but several Protestant ministers and two Roman Catholic priests, including Father Richard Morrisroe of Chicago accompanied the marchers.

Morrisroe, still carrying a wound because of gunshot wounds he suffered while attending a civil rights demonstration in Hayneville, Ala., last year, rode in the cab of a small truck.

Several hundred spectators were at the curbs along the 1 1/2-mile route for the march but they were orderly and silent.

The marchers carried signs demanding "equality in education" and some chanted, "Hey, hey, whatta you know? Mayor Sabonjian must go."

The marchers gathered in Roosevelt Park on the city's South Side, a few blocks from Sabonjian's home, and walked in pairs through the business district to the city hall.

Guarding the demonstrators were 68 Waukegan policemen, 50 Lake County deputy sheriffs and 24 state police.

The march was led by Frank Harris Jr., acting chairman of the Waukegan branch of the NAACP.

Harris and other civil rights demonstrators have charged that segregation is being maintained in one of Waukegan's grade schools.

In a short talk in front of City Hall, Sid Finley of Chicago, NAACP field director for six Midwest states, urged the demonstrators to attend a meeting of the power structure doing something about segregation in schools.

Proposition Loses In Five Precincts; 4,627 Persons Vote

A proposed Jacksonville Area Park District was soundly defeated by a record turnout of voters Saturday 2,714 (against) to 1,913 (for). The proposition lost by 801 votes with 4,627 cast in six precincts.

The measure was defeated in five of the six precincts ranging from 24 votes at Lafayette to 19 to 1 at North Jacksonville. The measure carried in only one of the six precincts, Washington school, 757 to 562.

The tally for park commissioners was not completed in the unofficial figures but will be completed and filed with the circuit court later. The vote for individual commissioners is unimportant since no such board will be formed.

The formation of a park district was also defeated by an even greater margin in June of 1962. At that time the proposition lost by a vote of 3,541 to 801.

Groups and individuals both for and against conducted an active campaign during the past week or two.

Most observers felt the public spoke loudly in protest to the possibility of higher taxes for anything.

Vote By Precinct

Precinct	For	Against
Washington	757	562
Jefferson	292	292
Franklin	283	427
N. Jacksonville	15	244
S. Jacksonville	282	668
Lafayette	497	521

TOTAL 1,913 2,714
Tally for park commissioners not completed since proposition lost by 801 votes.

In contrast to four years ago, the proposition received more favorable votes in each of the precincts with about 300 more people casting ballots. In the South Jacksonville precinct four years ago, the proposition lost by ten to one; this year, with only about 40 more people voting the measure lost a little more than two to one.

The 1962 vote by precincts for and against respectively: Jefferson, 46 to 341; Franklin, 109 to 562; Washington, 335 to 762; Lafayette, 217 to 667; Air-Port (north), 11 to 375; South Jacksonville, 83 to 834. A total of 4,342 ballots were cast in 1962.

No plans have been made to seek another referendum to pass a park district.

The recreation program for the Jacksonville area has now returned to the shoulders of the Jacksonville city council. What provisions or funds for the program will be decided in the near future.

QUINCY MAN TO SPEAK BEFORE SYMPHONY SOCIETY George Irwin, the Illinois businessman from Quincy who has helped promote the organizing of state arts councils, including the Illinois Arts Council, will be the featured speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Jacksonville Symphony Society.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 15, in Hamilton's Restaurant, according to president Jack Kurtz.

The War That Is Not A War

In any barbershop discussion of Viet Nam, someone invariably takes the stand that we should either declare war on the Communists and do the job right or get out. Either we are at war or we aren't at war.

This thinking is shared by many Americans, along with misgivings that the President has willfully bent the Constitution to involve this country in a situation that is a war in everything but name.

An expert with the Hoover Institution on War, Peace and Revolution at Stanford University answers both contentions with what seem like convincing arguments.

Formal declaration of war in Viet Nam would be politically and strategically unwise, says Stefan Possony. Such a step would be as much an escalation of the conflict as the use of nuclear weapons, he believes.

A formal declaration "would render far more difficult, if not preclude, negotiations aimed at . . . compromise solutions. It might also set in motion alliance treaties on the hostile side."

There is also the question of whom we should declare war on. Technically, he says, "a declaration of war can only be served on a state. The United States cannot possibly declare war on the Viet Cong because they have no international standing."

This is not the first time the United States has been involved in "non-war hostilities." Between 1793 and 1801, there was undeclared war between us and France. Even in the Civil War, Congress was unable to declare war on the rebelling states.

In all, nearly 200 military actions have been ordered by American presidents without the benefit of a congressional declaration of war.

Since the Constitution has no criteria for distinguishing between a war and a military action, as a practical matter all the President needs is congressional support, says Possony.

This he has had in various ways — approval of military budgets, the Gulf of Tonkin resolution and Senate ratification of treaties directly or indirectly committing the United States to defend South Viet Nam against aggression.

Barbershop discussions notwithstanding, "Mr. Johnson's War" is also Mr. Congressman's war. And both are ultimately answerable to the wishes of the people.

Red Shadow Over Thailand

More is at stake in the Viet Nam war than Viet Nam alone.

The administration believes — and most Americans seem to share this belief — that the future of all Southeast Asia hinges upon the success or failure of the resistance to Communist designs on this one land.

Lately, however, evidence has been accumulating that the Communists are not waiting upon the outcome in Viet Nam to expand their operations in Southeast Asia. In Thailand, a remarkably small number of Communist insurgents — the Thai Cong — are beginning to cause the government a remarkably great amount of trouble.

The similarity between Thailand today and Viet Nam a few years ago is disturbing. Here again, a military government — albeit a popular one — is combating the same terrorism, experiencing the same difficulties in winning the loyalty of the peasants and committing the same errors as did a succession of regimes in South Viet Nam.

The similarity is disturbing, at least, to that implacable critic of President Johnson's tactics in Viet Nam, Sen. J. William Fulbright. The senator, who fears we may be sliding into another Viet-type war, has announced hearings by his Foreign Relations Committee on U.S. policy in Thailand.

Already there are more U.S. troops in Thailand than were in South Viet Nam at this time a year ago, although the majority are Air Force personnel stationed at bases from which strikes against North Viet Nam and the Ho Chi Minh trail are launched.

But the Thai government is reportedly pressing for more active U.S. aid against the Communists on its territory in the form of more counter-insurgency teams and American-piloted helicopters.

The unpleasant surprise story of 1966 was the unforeseen willingness and capacity of the Communists in Viet Nam to take and dish out punishment on every level of escalation.

It is to be hoped that the unpleasant surprise of 1967 will not concern Thailand.

Dear Ann:

Widow Unloads Hostility

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been a widow for almost two years and I wouldn't wish this life on a dog.

Before my husband died he told me about two business deals he was making with a couple of friends. They were not in writing — merely oral agreements. My husband passed away before the deals were consummated.

The two friends couldn't do enough for me. They included me in their plans, took me to the bank, and I was touched by their consideration.

After the estate was settled I followed through on the two deals and paid both parties two and a half percent. The minute the money was in their hands, the friends disappeared. I have not seen or heard from them since.

Don't tell me I did the right thing and that I should not regret it because now I can live with my conscience. It is just as hard to live with the bitter resentment that I feel. —WIDOW BEWARE

Dear B.: I am not going to tell you anything. You didn't write because you wanted advice. You wrote to unload your hostility. Now that you've done it I hope you feel better. If you don't, please write again. That's what I'm here for.

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice to the 19-year-old girl not to give away free samples hit home. A girl who is not determined to keep her moral standards high will find plenty of guys who will help her lower them. I'm one who gave away free samples and I'll regret it to my dying day.

I, too, feel for the line about learning if we were compatible and now I see how dumb I was. What kind of test is it when you have to lie to your parents about where you've been, sneak around like a criminal and pray to heaven nobody sees you?

If I could offer just one bit of advice to teen-age girls it would be this. If a fellow drops you because you wouldn't "prove your love" (what a line!) the wounds will heal a lot faster than if he drops you because you let him have his way. —SMART-ENED UP DUMMY

Dear Smart: Go to the head of the class. Despite the pain, you've learned your lesson well. I hope you won't forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: A relative of ours has a very attractive 15-year-old son. It is embarrassing to be in their presence because this mother and son are always holding hands, or sitting close to one another with their arms entwined. If the TV is on, the mother lies with her head in the boy's lap, or he lies with his head in HER lap. Either he is stroking her head or she is stroking HIS head. After a couple hours, I could throw up.

Do you think something should be said to the mother, or to the boy? Or should nothing be said? I believe family affection is beautiful but THIS is ridiculous. —NO NAME

Dear No Name: It's more than ridiculous. It's pathetic. The mother is encouraging very unhealthy emotions and I'll bet she is unaware of it. Unless something is done, the boy may be crippled emotionally for the rest of his life. It may be that tremendous damage has already been done. By all means, speak to the mother — privately, of course — and urge her to talk the situation over with someone who can explain it well.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

To prevent the frequency of "breach of promise" cases in the English courts a bill will soon be introduced into Parliament, enacting that a promise of marriage, to be held binding, so that a breach of it shall constitute a ground of action, must be given in writing, and attested by two competent witnesses.

London was startled recently by placards announcing that thirty Frenchmen had been cooked and eaten. Under the belief, we suspect, that the scene had occurred in France, the evening papers were eagerly purchased, when it turned out that thirty men had indeed been eaten but by the natives of New Caledonia, who had always been cannibals. They were of a boat crew belonging to the Fulton, and their comrades, in revenge, killed every native they could find.

We are hearing a lot about gun control laws and however you may feel about them it behooves all who use firearms to use them safely.

I'd like to give you some rules to think about before you take to the fields with a gun. Always keep the safety on until ready to fire.

NEVER let your gun for any reason point at anyone or anything you don't want to hit. Avoid all horse play.

Never climb a tree, go through a fence or jump a ditch with a loaded weapon in your hand.

Keep gun and ammunition in good condition. Be sure barrel and action are free of obstructions.

Watch that muzzle! Never draw the gun toward you muzzle first, under any circumstances.

Remember alcohol and gunpowder are a deadly mixture. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of safety.

Don't shoot at everything that moves. Be sure of your target. Carry your gun so that you control the direction of the muzzle at all times.

Unload the gun and open its action before entering an automobile, home or camp; guns should be carried in cases to shooting area.

Never leave a gun unattended without unloading it first. Store guns and ammunition separately, beyond the reach of children.

Above all use common sense and care. Hunting safety starts with the hunter.

Now you should . . .
... can tomatoes.
... walk in the woods.
... cut tall corn and weeds at road corners and intersections.
... repair harvesting machinery.
... sell hogs.
... look for the leaves to turn.

It is getting dark earlier. Be sure you are not on the road at night with farm machinery without lights which mark your equipment well. Poor visibility is the reason for many farm machinery accidents.

If you are quick on the draw your bank account will soon be shot.

Must Recruit Younger Men To The Farms—To Feed The Nation

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The time may be near when the nation's agriculture and food industries will have to conduct vigorous recruiting campaigns to persuade young people to seek careers in them.

Farm leaders and students of agriculture are expressing concern over the way young people, including rural youth, reject farming for careers in the cities. Some see in this a threat to the nation's future efficiency in food production.

The problem was discussed recently at a conference of dairy industry educators at the University of Nebraska.

An educator from the University of Kentucky — A. W. Rudnick Jr. — declared there is a serious need for recruitment of college youth for education in this field.

Rudnick said discussions with high school advisers show that students and their parents want, first of all, to be doctors, second, chemists, and third, engineers. He said he finds agriculture is not popular.

"I have decided," he told the conference, "that it is the image that has attracted young people. The doctor eases pain and makes a child feel better. The chemists and physicists are shooting the moon. The engineer is building as never before and some of his structures are amazing."

Old Men
Oren Lee Staley, president of the National Farmers Organization with headquarters at Corn, Iowa, made a similar report at a meeting here attended by a number of congressmen.

He said agriculture is fast becoming an industry of old men with few young men willing to step into their shoes.

Staley said the only way to change this is to see to it that farming is better rewarded than at present.

The Kentucky dairy educator said there is need to improve what he called the image of farming and the farmer.

"Historically," he said, "agriculture has meant an occupation of peasants. Subconsciously it still does, even in our own minds."

Vote For Wool Markoff Scheduled This Month

Ballots for voting in the referendum on the lamb and wool promotion and market development program have been mailed to producers in Morgan County, Lester E. Martin, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced Friday. More than 350 people in Morgan County raise sheep.

The referendum will determine whether or not deductions will continue to be made from producer payments earned under the National Wool Program. Funds collected are used by the American Sheep Producers Council to carry out a program of advertising, promotion and related activities under an agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture.

The proposed agreement will become effective if it is approved by at least two-thirds of the total number of producers voting or by producers having at least two-thirds of the total volume of production represented by votes in the referendum.

According to the chairman, such an agreement has been in effect since the 1955 marketing year as approved by producers voting in referendums. If approved in the September referendum, a new agreement will authorize continuation of the deductions from payments on marketings through 1969.

If a new agreement is not approved by producers, no deductions will be withheld from payments on 1966 marketings, and ASPC programs will be continued only as long as the present reserve fund permits or until some other agreement may be approved by producers.

Approval of the new agreement would authorize payment deductions of up to 1 1/2 cents a pound on Shorn Wool and 7 1/2 cents a Hundredweight on unshorn lambs. These deductions compare with 1 cent and 5 cents in the past. The higher deductions were recommended by ASPC member organizations as a means of financing a moderately expanded promotion program for both Wool and Lambs.

Producers eligible to vote in the referendum are all those who have owned sheep or lamb 6 months of age or older for at least 30 consecutive days since last January 1. Votes may be cast by individuals, corporations or partnerships. Cooperative associations may qualify to vote for all of their eligible members who would not then otherwise vote in the referendum.

Producers may vote in the referendum as soon as the ballots are received — voting will end Sept. 23. The period of voting will last for several weeks in order to encourage participation in the referendum by as large a number of sheep producers as possible. Preliminary referendum results will be announced early in October.

The chairman urges any producer who believes he is eligible to vote and who does not receive a ballot to get in touch with his ASPC county office. The ballots must be received by the ASPC office not later than Friday, Sept. 23, to be counted.

BEGINNER'S LUCK
BROOKVILLE, Pa. (AP) — For three days, 10 local fishermen — using the best angling gear — tried to land a 23-inch brown trout known to be in a stream near this west-central Pennsylvania town.

They wanted the fish for a display tank promoting Brookville as a fisherman's paradise, but the trout wouldn't take their fancy lures.

Then Mark Burns, 10, ambled on the scene with an old pole and a 10-cent lure, made three quick casts and — you guessed it — caught the fish.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

TURKEY AND BROILER OUTLOOK

Midwestern farmers are showing a great deal of interest in turkeys and broilers these days. The fact that fewer than half of the turkeys and only about 4 percent of the broilers raised in the U.S. are produced in the North Central Region does not lessen this interest.

Midwestern hog and cattle producers are concerned about the poultry industry because it affects their businesses.

Poultry competes directly with red meats for a place on consumers' tables. And although red meat consumption is still four times that of poultry meat, the latter continues to increase each year. The average rate of increase in per capita consumption of broilers and turkeys has been 13 percent a year for the past 16 years, although the rate of growth has slowed down to only 6 percent a year since 1960.

Less Pork — More Poultry
We have an excellent example of how poultry substitutes for red meat this year. Pork was in short supply from the last quarter of 1965 through the first quarter of 1966. The reduction was more than 10 percent below year-earlier levels. On a per capita basis, pork supplies were the lowest since the mid-1930s. Broiler producers consequently increased placements substantially.

Broiler supplies during the last quarter of 1965 and the first quarter of 1966 were up 12 percent. Broiler prices were not adversely affected by this increase. Turkey meat supplies were also increased nearly 10 percent during the six months in question, and this increase also was accomplished without the usual price reductions.

The current turkey crop is expected to exceed that of last year by 11 percent. By the time the last bird is dressed, a record total of 116 million turkeys will have been processed this year. The average farm price for the entire crop may be down half a cent from the 22.6-cent average of 1965, but that will not be enough to stop plans for expansion. Turkeys will surely provide strong competition for red meats during the remainder of this year and next.

Broiler Prices Up
Broiler production for 1966 as a whole is expected to exceed that of last year by about 8 percent. More than 85 percent of the 2.4 billion broilers to be produced this year will again be raised in the South Atlantic and South Central States. Broiler prices for the year are expected to average a fraction over 15 cents a pound live-weight, or slightly above the 1965 level, the best year price-wise since 1962.

Estimates of broiler and turkey supplies for 1967 can be made by using profitability indexes for the current year. This estimating technique forecasts continued expansion in broiler and turkey production for next year. Broiler marketings in 1967 are expected to be at least 5 percent greater than they have been this year. The turkey crop also is expected to be larger; an increase of 5 to 11 percent is likely. Both turkeys and broilers are expected to be lower in price next year than this year, resulting in narrower profit margins. Increased input costs may tend to slow growth in the industry. But cattle and hog producers can look forward to stiff competition from poultry for the consumer's dollar in the year ahead.

REVENUE ARTICLE TO BE VOTED ON IN NOVEMBER

The proposed revenue article is the result of a long study of the problems. It passed both houses of the Illinois legislature by a favorable vote of 8 out of 10. It is supported by the State Chamber of Commerce, The Illinois Agricultural Association, Illinois Bankers Association, Illinois Association of School Administrators, Illinois Conference of Teamsters, Illinois Educational Association, Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Retail Merchants Association, The Illinois Division of the American Association of University Women and other groups.

USDA Staff Ready For Nuclear Troubles

"If the United States ever suffered a nuclear disaster, the American farmer would be depended upon to supply the food and fiber needed to keep the economy going. One of the greatest problems he might face would be radioactive fallout," stated Wallace T. Hembrough, ASOS office manager, who is chairman of the Morgan USDA County Defense Board.

Hembrough said the monitoring services would be needed immediately after a nuclear disaster to determine the intensity of radiation on local farms.

These services would be needed later to determine when radiation has decreased to a point where farming could be safely resumed. Expert personnel and special instruments are required for this type of work.

Under the direction of USDA state and county Defense Boards, an emergency radiological monitoring program is set up to function immediately if needed in a national emergency. Trained monitors are ready to aid in handling the radiological problems that would exist following a nuclear accident or attack.

Some of the problems which might arise under nuclear emergency conditions are the detection and measurement of radiological contamination of farm lands, harvestable crops, stored crops, forest land, and water, and the protection and handling of farm animals.

The Soil Conservation Service member will advise and assist in the proper use of water during an emergency, and the Farmer's Home Administration member will help the farmers in any credit problems that may arise. The County Extension agent provides education on survival practices and protective measures for the farmer, his family, and his livestock.

The board members also advise farmers regarding programs of USDA agencies that are not represented on the board. This might include, for example, assistance in rural fire defense or in the protection of livestock and crops against radiological or biological warfare.

More than 3,000 county defense boards are operating throughout the nation, and they work closely with county civil government authorities. The county defense boards receive direction from the USDA State Defense Boards.

"Farmers can look to their local USDA County Defense Board and to Civil Defense for guidance in a national emergency," Hembrough says.

Erickson, Peterson To Be Here Sept. 20

Morgan County livestock producers are invited to attend the annual livestock and feed outlook meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at the Blackhawk Restaurant in Jacksonville.

The current livestock outlook and feed situation will be discussed by Duane Erickson, specialist in Farm Management at the University of Illinois, and by Earl D. Peterson, fieldman with St. Louis Producers Livestock Marketing association.

Peterson, former farm adviser in Montgomery county, has taken the place of Ed Lamb, former Producers fieldman who was so loved and admired in this area before his death with heart disease a year ago.

Mrs. Clark Of Roodhouse Observes 100th Birthday

ROODHOUSE — The 100th house held at her home. birthday anniversary of a well-known Roodhouse resident, Mrs. ward C. (Ted) Clark passed away Sunday, Sept. 4th with open parents of the following children: Lester Clark, Brattleboro, Vt.; Earl J. Clark, Manchester, Robert S. Clark, Shreveport, La.; Mrs. Ralph (Betty) Hamm, Roodhouse. Attending the open house were old friends, neighbors, and relatives from Roodhouse, Manchester, Shreveport, La.; and Brattleboro, Vt. Punch and cake were served from a tea table presided over by her granddaughter, Miss Mary Hamm, St. Louis, Mo. On Friday, gifts, cards, and flowers began to arrive including a corsage fashioned by her nearest neighbor, Mrs. John W. Roberts, for the fifteenth year. The flowers were furnished by Mrs. Orval Kelly; a beautiful birthday cake was baked and donated by Mrs. Hazel Sage and one by Mrs. Gertrude Harvey, also a close neighbor, and many tokens of affection were received from a host of others.

Mrs. Etta Clark

Residing at present with Mrs. Clark is Mrs. Ruth Moore of Drake.

In a recent interview, Mrs. Clark stated that Sept. 4, 1886, she was born in the house of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Heaton of Manchester. When she was not yet sixteen years old her mother suddenly died leaving her with much responsibility for the care of her five younger brothers and sisters. In this undertaking, she was helped by her two grandmothers. "Granny" Swallow, who had long been a widow, had kept a stage coach inn on the south edge of Manchester and had once had Lincoln as a guest. Interested in the education of youth, she taught the two youngest of the five children, Heaton and Chester Swallow, to read before they entered the local public school.

Teacher in Scott Mrs. Clark tells of her early experiences as a public school teacher. Her first employment as a teacher was at Brush College, a country school north of the then distant town of Winchester. The next year she was hired to teach the spring term at a nearby rural school remembered as Buzzards' Roost. After this year, she obtained a teaching position in the Manchester school. One of her pupils was her own little brother Chester. Dr. Chester Swallow of Fort Morgan, Colo., now retired, is the only survivor of her five younger brothers and sisters. At Christmas time in 1893 "Miss Etta" resigned her teaching position and married E. C. (Ted) Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Clark of Manchester.

They immediately established residence on a farm southwest of White Hall in a neighborhood where many years before numerous descendants of the Swallow family of Vermont had established themselves as early settlers.

At the beginning of the 20th century the Clarks were early settlers in Oklahoma where they remained three years. On returning to Illinois, the Clarks with their family of three children lived four miles east of White Hall. Here three additional children were born.

After the death of Mr. Clark in 1949, Mrs. Clark, with her older daughter, Margaret, moved to her present home on Palm street. Three years ago Mrs. Clark lost this daughter and constant companion by death.

Mrs. Clark enjoys reasonably good health and "never misses a meal," as she says—not even when she broke her hip several years ago.

She still retains her membership in the Manchester Methodist church which she joined over eighty years ago.

Coming from a distance were the following of her immediate family: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, Shreveport, La.; a grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Clark, and son, Scarth, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Robert F. Clark and son, Robbie, Santa Anna, Calif. Her husband, the grandson of Mrs. Clark, Capt. Robert F. Clark, is now serving in Viet Nam.

Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 11, 1966

The son, Lester Clark, Brattleboro, Vt., called to talk with his mother since he was unable to visit her at this time.

Study RIGHT Lamp

Studying with the wrong light can cause fatigue—makes your work seem twice as hard as it really is. That's why a good study lamp is so important.

The Study Right Lamp tag on the lamps at your Illinois Power Showroom is your assurance that the lamp you buy is specifically designed for studying. It means the lamp:

- will give you enough light for studying.
- has a diffuser bowl to soften light and prevent glare
- has a semi-opaque shade to direct the light to the working surface

Liam Sullivan

Versatile Liam Sullivan, formerly of Jacksonville, stars in the new ABC network series, "The Monroes," which premiered last Wednesday night over St. Louis TV channel 2. Some may pick up the show over Decatur channel 19. The hour long series is seen weekly at 7 p.m. on Wednesday.

Sullivan has been touring the country in personal appearances for the network to publicize the show. He is currently in the Dallas and Houston, Texas area and has visited Detroit, Michigan, Buffalo, N.Y., Boston, Mass., Miami, Fla., New Orleans, La. and Tulsa, Okla.

The plot deals with the Monroe family, headed by 19 year old 'Clay' attempting to make his late father's dream of establishing a new home for the family a reality. The 19 year old's 'family' consists of sisters and brothers, Kathleen, 16; twins, Jefferson and Fenimore, 13 and 6 year old Amy.

Sullivan portrays cattle baron Major Mapoy, who claims a vast section of the land, including the area staked out by the Monroe youngsters. The Major is tough with the Monroes because he has his doubts as to whether they can make it on their own in the wilds of Wyoming having left their more civilized home in Illinois. Major Mapoy likes the Monroes and they like him but the relationship is far from the buddy-buddy picture.

The series is being filmed entirely in its natural setting, one of the few shows to be shot solely on location. Color sets have the great advantage over black and white for the beautiful scenery accompanied with a believable and entertaining story.

George MacCall, the U.S. captain, said only, "It's a team matter."

He said Graebner's disappointing performance against Stolle in losing 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, had nothing to do with the decision.

"This does not mean Graebner is off indefinitely," MacCall said. "He can still win his way back on the squad."

The Pirates loaded the bases in the 12th on Matty Alou's single and two walks before Mazeroski delivered the tie-breaking run with a fly to center, snapping the Pirates' three-game losing string as well.

The Pirates tied it 2-2 in the sixth when Roberto Clemente singled to right, took second when Mike Shannon fumbled the ball and scored on Willie Stargell's single.

The Cardinals had gone ahead 2-1 in the top of the sixth when Lou Brock walked, stole his 63rd base—tying the club record he set last year—and came across on Orlando Cepeda's single.

This was rejection by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee of a plea by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle to exempt the NFL-AFL merger from antitrust laws.

The suit charged that Chicago Football Associates were illegally denied an American Football League franchise in Chicago as a result of the intended merger.

Rep. Celler, in rejecting Rozelle's plea, instructed the two leagues to go ahead with plans to combine the two leagues, commenting: "There hasn't been any suit filed or any questions raised."

"We definitely feel the merger in restraint of trade under the Sherman Act and also under the Clayton Act and are suing for damages on that basis," Nussbaum said.

The Chicago Bears have held a franchise here since the NFL's inception. Another Chicago NFL team, the Cardinals, shifted to St. Louis after the 1959 season, while the Chicago Rockets operated here unsuccessfully as a member of the now defunct All-America Conference.

File Suit To Prevent Pro Merger

CHICAGO (AP) — A group called Chicago Football Associates, previously seeking an American Football League franchise, Friday announced filing of a $12-million suit to prevent the planned merger of the National and American Football Leagues.

Robert Nussbaum, Chicago stockbroker and head of the group, said the suit was filed in U.S. District Court Friday.

Nussbaum, who formerly operated the Chicago Panthers, a semi-pro team, said "our suit frankly was prompted by the stand taken yesterday by the government."

This was rejection by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee of a plea by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle to exempt the NFL-AFL merger from antitrust laws.

The suit charged that Chicago Football Associates were illegally denied an American Football League franchise in Chicago as a result of the intended merger.

Rep. Celler, in rejecting Rozelle's plea, instructed the two leagues to go ahead with plans to combine the two leagues, commenting: "There hasn't been any suit filed or any questions raised."

"We definitely feel the merger in restraint of trade under the Sherman Act and also under the Clayton Act and are suing for damages on that basis," Nussbaum said.

Bosox Fire Herman As Team Manager

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox fired Manager Billy Herman Friday and named Pete Runnels, a coach, as interim manager.

"Although the Red Sox have played more exciting baseball under Billy Herman this year, we think a change was necessary to insure that the club will continue to climb in the AL standings," said General Manager Dick O'Connell. "We informed Billy of our intention at this time to enable him to contact other clubs."

O'Connell said he hoped the club would be able to name its 1967 manager before the start of the World Series next month.

Herman was third base coach for the Red Sox for five years before becoming manager in 1965. The Red Sox finished ninth last season and are in the same position this year, one-half game ahead of the New York Yankees.

Runnels, 38, was a two-time American League batting champion for the Red Sox before finishing his playing career with Houston in 1964. He joined the Red Sox as a coach under Herman in 1965.

Runnels Not Candidate
The Red Sox emphasized that Runnels was strictly an interim manager and was not a candidate for the permanent job.

"I don't plan any changes from now until the end of the season," Runnels said.

Herman is the fifth big league manager to lose his job this season.

CHILD-REARING

Mothers with children between the ages of six and twelve have something special in store for them September 18, according to Carol Hamilton, Morgan-Scott Assistant Home Adviser.

John Schultz, University of Illinois Extension Specialist in Family Life, will present a training session entitled "The Emotional Needs of Your Child from Six to Twelve." The session will be held at 7 p.m. in the Farm Bureau building in Jacksonville.

The evening's program will include discussion on child discipline and on the short and long-range effects of teaching preschoolers to read. Mr. Schultz will also cover other topics of current interest to mothers of children in this age group.

Since registration is limited to 30 persons, it must be done on advance basis. Those interested should phone or visit the Cooperative Extension Office, E. Morton Rd., before Wednesday noon, September 14. There is no charge for the workshop.

Young mothers in particular are urged to attend. It is hoped that in the future an extension unit can be formed composed of these mothers with common interests and problems. The projected unit would have special lessons and projects oriented toward their unique needs.

This program will provide mothers interested in effective child-rearing with a helpful, informative evening, as well as a possible introduction to Cooperative Extension work.
